3) New Business:

- BCM Environmental & Land Law – Gonic Dam and Sawmill Dam Removal

Tara Kessler of BCM Environmental & Land Law introduced herself as representing Gosport Properties LLC, the owner of the Gonic Dam. She thanked the Conservation Commission for their letter of support for the Aquatic Resources Mitigation (ARM) Fund application. She explained that the ARM Fund Review Committee recommended establishment of a restrictive covenant for a 100-foot-wide riparian buffer along approximately 1,500 feet of river. (This would be measured 100 feet landward from the existing highwater mark. Once the dams are removed it is expected that the portions of the riverbed will become exposed and will vegetate. This will serve to further buffer the river from the uplands.)

To ensure development restrictions are followed, a second party is needed on the restrictive covenant. The property owner would like to know if the Conservation Commission would agree to serve as this second party. (The State of NH would be a third party to these restrictions.)

Commission members asked how the proposed area is accessed and if it required passing over another property.

Tara Kessler explained that there is a parking lot associated with the parcel and an existing trail that leads to the river.

Kevin Sullivan asked if the public could use the parking lot to access the river.

Tara Kessler replied that if that was a condition by the Conservation Commission, it would need to be negotiated with the property owner and specified in the restrictive covenants. She explained that any restrictions established with run with the land in perpetuity.

Mike Dionne asked how the City's sewer line is being treated during the remediation.

Tara Kessler indicated that scour protections would be established and the design are currently under review.

Renée McIsaac asked if the request was solely for the Conservation Commission to serve as an interested party and monitor for encroachments.

Tara Kessler confirmed this was the case.

Kevin Sullivan requested what the development value of the restricted area would be.

Tara Kessler stated that this would be calculated at a later date.

Mike Dionne asked Renée McIsaac if the City's Attorney would need to be consulted.

Renée McIsaac confirmed that the City's Attorney would be involved in review of any legal documents.

Dylan Dowe motioned to continue work on developing restrictive covenants agreeable to associated parties. Dan Nickerson seconded the motion; the motion passed unanimously.
