Scope of Work

The City of Rochester is accepting sealed bids for a Backflow Prevention Device Survey, Testing and Inspections. The work locations will be at the commercial and industrial water customer facilities throughout the city, which there are approximately 400 accounts. The work shall be completed at all of these facilities.

- Base work will involve conducting a survey of each facility to determine the need for backflow prevention devices, to which hazard degree, i.e. high or low hazard, and location of such devices.
- Survey will also include documentation of any illicit connections into the City sewer system.
- Contractor shall record all survey results for the City and provide in hard and electronic format.
- Optional work will include conducting one-time inspections and tests of such devices when present, and incorporating the results into the survey.
- Contractor shall furnish within their proposal a cost for each facility survey, a cost per device inspected and a cost per device tested.
- Costs associated with survey documentation will be subsidiary to the base work.

It is anticipated that all base and optional work can be conducted during a single visit to each customer facility. The contractor shall meet with Public Works staff on two separate occasions to discuss survey implementation and a third time to discuss results. Rochester adheres to the containment philosophy of cross connection control; protection of the public drinking water system is the priority and fixture isolation within facilities is not required. Prospective contractors should read the City Ordinance 18, Regulation of Cross-connections between Potable and Non-Potable Systems. Qualified contractors will have experience in backflow prevention testing/inspecting and be certified backflow prevention technicians with New England Water Works Association (NEWWA).
